Project Planning Service Company Limited (Public) and Affiliated companies

Project Planning Service Public Company Limited (PPS) and Affiliated companies prioritize and consider the privacy of all users. This is to enhance service quality and create a positive user experience. When you visit the PPS website or any of its subsidiary sites, information related to your site visit will be recorded in the form of cookies. This is to analyze data and remember user behavior on your website visits, including remembering previous settings, to enable the website to display and present information, news, promotions, services, and other activities tailored to your interests. This facilitates the rapid display of data and provides convenience in various services on the PPS website and Subsidiary companies.

This cookie policy will explain the meaning, functionality, purposes, deletion, refusal of cookie collection, and cookie settings for your privacy. By continuing to use this website, you are deemed to have accepted the use of cookies in accordance with the detailed cookie policy below.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small files used to store website usage data. They are stored on your computer, and/or your communication device such as a laptop, tablet, or smartphone, via your web browser. Cookies are harmless to your computer and/or communication device in the following cases: Your personal data may be stored to enhance your online service experience. Cookies may customize language preferences and tailor usage data to your preferences to confirm your unique identity. Your security information, including the services you are interested in, may also be stored. Furthermore, cookies are used to measure online service usage, adapt content based on your usage, considering your past and current browsing behavior, and may serve promotional purposes. You can find more information about cookies at www.allaboutcookies.org.

In the operation of cookies, it will automatically collect the following data.

1. Date and time of website access, as well as IP (Internet Protocol) address and domain name from which you accessed the website.
2. Browser type and operating system used to access the website.
3. Visit information and duration of visits.
4. Date and time of leaving the website, as well as IP (Internet Protocol) address and domain name from which you exited the website.

The function of cookies

PPS and its affiliated companies use cookies to record your website visits, allowing us to remember your interactions for easier access. This data is utilized to enhance our website to better align with your preferences, providing a more efficient browsing experience. Cookies also aid in diagnosing server issues, managing website operations, and occasionally necessitate involving third parties who may require IP (Internet Protocol) addresses and cookies for statistical analysis, data correlation, and processing for marketing purposes.

Cookies used by PPS may be categorized into 2 types based on storage method as follows:

1. Session Cookies: These are temporary cookies designed to remember you while you visit the PPS website or its affiliated companies' websites. For example, they keep track of the language you've selected and other preferences. They are deleted from your computer or device when you leave the website or close your web browser.
2. Persistent Cookies: These are cookies that remain for a predetermined period or until you delete them. They help our website remember you and your settings when you return to use the website again. This facilitates a more convenient and faster experience when accessing our website.

Purposes of using cookies

1. Strictly Necessary Cookies

These cookies are essential for accessing PPS website services and those of its affiliated companies. They enable you to access various parts of the website and help remember information you've provided through the website. Disabling these cookies will result in you being unable to use essential features of our services that require cookies.

2. Performance Cookies

These cookies help us understand user interactions with PPS website services and those of its affiliated companies. They provide insights into popular pages or areas of the website, as well as other data analysis. We use this information to improve website functionality and better understand user behavior. While the data collected by these cookies may be non-personally identifiable and used solely for statistical analysis, some cookies may originate from third-party website links. Disabling these cookies will prevent us from tracking website visitation volumes and evaluating service quality.

3. Functional Cookies

These cookies help PPS website, and its affiliated companies remember various preferences that you have set. They also assist the website in delivering additional features and content tailored to your usage, such as remembering changes to font sizes or page settings that you can customize. Some cookies may originate from third-party website links. Disabling these cookies will result in the website being unable to function fully.

4. Targeting Cookies

These cookies are generated from third-party website links, which collect information about your usage and the websites you have visited. This data is used to present news, activities, promotions, as well as products or services on websites other than those of PPS or its affiliated companies. We are not responsible for the content of these third-party websites. Disabling these cookies will not affect your use of our website, but it may affect the presentation of products or services on other websites that may not align with your interests.

Cookie settings

If you do not want cookies to collect information, you can choose to change the settings in the "Settings" section of the toolbar on your internet browser. If you continue to use the website services without changing the cookie settings in your new internet browser, your device will automatically accept cookies as previously configured when you access it next time. Disabling cookies on your browser or device may affect the appearance and functionality of PPS website and it's affiliated companies.

If you wish to make changes to your settings, you can find more information at <https://www.allaboutcookies.org/how-to-delete-cookies>

Linking to Other Websites and Third-Party Cookie Usage

PPS website and it's affiliated companies may link to external websites or social media platforms. This may include embedding content or videos from social media, allowing you to access content and interact with others on social media platforms directly from our website. External websites or social media platforms linked may have their own cookie settings and types of cookies. We cannot control or be held responsible for the cookies of external websites or social media platforms linked. We recommend that you read and review the cookie policy or statement of these external parties. We are not responsible for the linking to or the content of such external websites or social media platforms, and we have no affiliation with or control over the linking to or content of such external websites.

In some cases, we may use cookies provided by trusted third parties to help us understand how you use the PPS website or the websites of affiliated companies. This includes how to improve your experience. These cookies may track various things such as the duration of your visit to the website and the pages you visit. This information helps us prepare content that is interesting and relevant to you in the future.
